

C lear communication is key to providing a high-quality education. When your students can hear you, they can learn. And when they can learn, you, as their teacher, now have untold opportunity to create awareness, spark imagination and open new doors to the many experiences life has to offer.

Can your classroom hear you?

Close to 15% of school children, or approximately eight million students, have a hearing loss that can impact their educational progress.*

Our experience

covers diverse applications —

From elementary classrooms to high school auditoriums, from retrofit to new construction, from portable to stationary systems; Williams Sound has the technology and flexibility to help you meet your accessibility requirements. With more than 30 years of experience, we are focused on supporting your educational offerings, enhancing student experience and providing an overall exceptional listening experience to everyone involved.
