

Simplifying security for small and medium businesses

Security managed from your smartphone

Gallagher security for SMB lets customers take control of their business security from anywhere, at any time, all from a smartphone. They can easily manage alarms, access control, and unlimited users via the SMB app.

A cloud-based solution

As a cloud-based system, Gallagher security for SMB requires no on-site server, or dedicated security staff. It is automatically kept up-to-date with the latest firmware, security updates, and functionality.

Key Features

Intruder Alarm

Arm and disarm areas using a smartphone from anywhere, at any time.

Multi-Site

Manage the security of multiple sites from one SMB app.

Self-monitoring

Receive real-time alarm notifications and request a security guard to visit your site. (New Zealand only)

Access Control

Lock or unlock doors using a smartphone, or a Gallagher SMB Key Tag.

User Management

Add, edit, or remove an unlimited number of users.

Third-Party Monitoring

Opt for a third-party monitoring company to manage any security incidents that occur.

About Gallagher Security

Since entering the security market over 30 years ago, we have become a global leader in the innovation, manufacturing, and marketing of security solutions. Leveraging our experience in electric fence technology, we have developed innovative perimeter, access control, and intruder alarm solutions.

With small and medium businesses making up 99.9% of US businesses, we saw an opportunity to offer them the same quality security in a less complex environment. We have designed this solution to satisfy the needs of small and medium businesses, literally putting control in their hands.

Gallagher protects some of the world's most high-security sites, from mines to ports and government sites. We protect sites in 137 countries, with more than 12,000 customers. But what about smaller businesses with less complex security needs? Now, small and medium businesses can trust Gallagher too.

Why choose Gallagher?

Global security leader

We have taken our extensive knowledge and award-winning technology and created something to give you greater control in managing your security.

Proudly New Zealand made

Designed and manufactured on-site at our head office in New Zealand, we guarantee product quality with no compromise.
